This award is given in honor of Dr. Joseph Lopez, National/Regional Conference Chair from 2011-2012. Lopez was born in Los Angeles, CA to Salvadoran parents. He was raised in the underserved communities of south central Los Angeles and Oak Park in Sacramento. He became the first in his family to graduate from high school and attend college. As an undergraduate, he attended Stanford University where he pursued basic science research and community service projects. After graduating from college, he enrolled at Harvard Medical School (HMS) where he continued both basic science research and work in under-resourced communities. Through his involvement with LMSA-NE, he helped organize the 2012 National/Regional LMSA conference at Harvard Medical School. Dr. Lopez graduated from HMS with a MD/MBA degree in 2013 and is currently training in reconstructive surgery at Johns Hopkins Hospital.
